LUTHER I. SACHS HOME IS WINNER IN DECORATING CONTEST HERE

Beauty and ingenuity featured the outdoor home Christmas decorations played by Gettysburg residents. The judges in the Moose-sponsored decorations contest agreed Saturday night.

Following a more than two-hour tour during which they studied the 37 homes entered in the contest, the judges concluded that, in the words of A. H. Bletner, chairman of the group, "Gettysburg residents can be proud of the effort they have made."

The home of Luther I. Sachs, on Locust avenue, was awarded the first prize of $50 in very close competition with the home of Stanley Hull, Mummasburg road, which was given the second award, $25. The Sachs home was termed by the judges the most beautiful of all, while the Hull home combined beauty with ingenuity.

At Sachs' home a silvered tree was placed atop a porch roof, and fairy wrapped Christmas packages were banked about the bottom of the Christmas tree. Greens placed about the doorway were also silvered and a pinkish red spotlight added luster to the silvered foliage and tree. Blue spotlights on the snow and house added to the "Christmas scene" effect that was given the home, as did window lights and other decorations.

Santa Claus' reindeer were in motion at the Stanley Hull home, the only one in which animation was given to the scene. Santa had lighted blue eyes and the reindeer had lighted green eyes. A rocking device kept the reindeer in constant motion giving the impression that they were pulling the sleigh across the snow. North of Santa's sleigh a fireplace had been constructed, with cutout figures of children waiting for Santa to arrive grouped about the fireplace, and with a Christmas tree beside them. Spotlights and other Christmas lights, and snow painted on the windows added to the scene.

Other cash prize winners included: Third, Francis Groff, West Middle street; fourth, John J. Augustine, Fairfield road; fifth, T. D. Hay, Taneytown road; sixth, Dr. John J. Knox, York street; seventh, Charles Beales, Knoxlyn; eighth, Myrl Shaffer, York street, and ninth, Theodore Keefe, Fourth street.

TV Set Donated By Elks Is Xmas Highlight At County Home

Tuesday will be Christmas with all the trimmings for the children in the Warner hospital, the patients there, the old folks at the county home and the prisoners in the county jail.

At the county home, Steward Herbert G. Taylor said the most delightful Christmas present, as far as the residents are concerned, is their new television set, donated by the Elks. With the necessity of putting up a tower, the county home decided to declare Christmas a little early and the residents have been spending their evenings for the last week watching the antics on the television screen. The set was installed in a large hallway in the men's building, so there would be room for all the guests, both male and female to view the telecasts.

Taylor said, "It's still new and they tell me they enjoy every single minute of it, and all the programs, even the commercials."

Hold Services, Parties
In addition, a number of church organizations and others have been holding Christmas parties at the home, providing treats and gifts for the residents. The formal Christmas party and birthday party was held last week by the American Legion auxiliary for the guests, and in addition a number of organizations have been singing carols there and "bringing much joy to all of us here," Taylor said.

The menu planned for the Christmas meal at the county home Tuesday includes turkey, filling, mashed potatoes, sweet potatoes, cranberry sauce, cole slaw, cake and ice cream. Three Christmas trees have been decorated there, one in each building.

At the jail the menu for Tuesday will include turkey, filling, gravy, mashed potatoes, cranberry sauce, celery, devil's food cake, bread and coffee. In addition a number of religious carols will be sung.

Army Reserve Unit Cancels Meetings

Regularly scheduled meetings of Company A, 313th Infantry, local Army Reserve unit, listed for December 25 and January 1, have been cancelled, Lt. Sebastian Hafer, company commander, said today.

Promotion of Charles D. Meschner, executive officer of the company from 2nd lieutenant to 1st lieutenant was announced by the company commander. First Lieutenant Meschner received his promotion and took the oath of office at a ceremony conducted by Capt. Cyril Spicer, professor of Military Science and Tactics at Gettysburg college, in the ROTC offices at the college.

Lieutenant Hafer announced there are several openings available in the local army reserve unit. Men interested are asked to contact First Sergeant Donald Weaver, Chambersburg street.

A blanket of snow, deep and white, spread a Christmas mantle over Gettysburg last week, lending a festive holiday appearance to the historic hills and valleys, and covering the graves of those who fell in battle here and in other wars of the United States. This "White Christmas" scene was taken from the cupola of the administration building at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary. College buildings can be seen in the left center and at the right is Cemetery Ridge and the Gettysburg National cemetery. The scene helps convey the best wishes of The Gettysburg Times to all its readers and friends—a message of Christmas joy, good will and a prosperous and happy new year.

SIX INJURED, $4,650 DAMAGE IN 4 CRASHES

Six persons received minor injuries and damages to autos totaling more than $4,650 were done in four auto accidents investigated by the state police in the county over the week-end.

State police are now seeking a driver who took a car in Hanover and later abandoned it along the Gettysburg-Hanover road after side-swiping a parked auto in McSherrytown and colliding head-on with a parked car along the highway.

The car involved in the hit-and-run accident was owned by Theodore Bankert, Hanover R. 1. His son, David, 20, had taken the car for the evening had gone with a girl friend to attend a Christmas party at the Hanover Legion home Friday night. The driver, who parked his car with the keys in it, found it missing when leaving the party Saturday at 12:30 a.m.

Double Collision
The person who took the car did so about 11:45 p.m. Friday and drove through McSherrytown where he hit the parked auto of R. M. Shaffer, Main street, McSherrytown. The left rear fender and half of the bumper was torn off the Bankert car and were found at the scene of the crash.

Continuing on toward Gettysburg, the operator smashed head-on into the parked sedan owned by Rodney and Doris Ernst, Gettysburg R. 6, which was parked in front of the Ernst home about three and one-half miles east of Gettysburg.

After backing away from that collision, the driver drove on about 200 feet where the Bankert auto apparently quit and it was abandoned. Damage to the Bankert car was estimated at $150 and to the Ernst car $1,000. No damage estimate was available on the Shaffer sedan.

State police of the Gettysburg subdivision today were seeking the identity of a motorist who early Sunday morning picked up the driver of the automobile involved in the accident on the Benneville road, and brought him to Gettysburg. The driver of the car which brought the operator of the stolen vehicle to Gettysburg after the second accident was requested today to get in touch with the local subdivision.

Town And County Join World In Observance Of Christmas

"And she brought forth her first-born son and wrapped him in swaddling clothes and laid him in a manger."

Gettysburg and Adams county today reverently looked forward to the annual observance of the miracle of Bethlehem, the birth of the Saviour.

At the same time, blended with the carols were the more mundane thoughts and activities connected more with "Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer" and "Dasher and Dancer and Prancer" and the rest of the gift-giving Christmas tree, visiting, children's toys and feasts connected with the Christmas season.

There was a flurry of last second shopping this afternoon particularly among persons engaged in setting up platforms for their Christmas trees, and discovering, as usual, they needed more things than they have from last Christmas. There was the usual flurry also in the sale of Christmas tree lights as countless discovered that some lights which worked well last year no longer are usable.

And there was, deep underneath, an appreciation of the true basis for Christmas, the birth of the Child in Bethlehem. Tonight hundreds will go to churches, others will visit their churches tomorrow to hear again the story of how the angels came to tell the shepherds, "Do not be afraid, for behold I bring you good news of great joy."

At 11 o'clock tonight candlelight services will be held at Christ Lutheran and St. James Lutheran churches. At Trinity Reformed church a festival will be held at 11:30 o'clock. Hundreds will join St. Francis Xavier for the annual mid-high mass there. Christmas morning there will be masses at 7, 8, 9 and 10:30 o'clock at St. Francis Xavier. A sunrise service will be held at 6 o'clock in St. Paul's A.M.E. Zion church and at 11 o'clock a service of Holy Communion will be held at Prince of Peace Episcopal.

This reading tells the story of a woman artist who was seeking refuge in the White folk who he thought her superior to the negro. He paints the beautiful picture of the church of The Redeemer and to their surprise when the picture is in place the Madonna and child are placed around. However before the picture is placed over the people and artist find that they have been over their head in the light of Christ. Although there is nothing black in the picture, the reading will be given by Miss Florence Schaeffer and interpreted by Miss Mary Mason.

Reds Refuse To Open POW Camps To R.C.

Munsan, Korea, Dec. 24 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's appeal to the Communist high command to open the gates of North Korean prison camps to representatives of the International Red Cross was rejected today, a Communist correspondent in Panmunjom said.

However the Reds proposed and the U.N. quickly agreed, to establish a postoffice in neutral Panmunjom to prisoners of both sides could send and receive mail. Details will be worked out later.

With only three days remaining until the provisional cease-fire line agreement expires, there appeared little chance that negotiators would be able to agree on a Korean armistice before the deadline.

Stop Red Attacks

Along the quiet, wintry battle front Allied troops beat back a series of minor Red probing attacks. But for the most part soldiers attended religious services and put the finishing touches on preparations for Christmas celebrations. There was little air action except for strikes against Communist railways and supply facilities.

Six hundred soldiers jammed a new chapel near the front Monday and heard Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, celebrate his first wartime mass in Korea.

A hand-written letter from Maj. Gen. William F. Dean to his wife in Berkeley, Calif., was turned over to U.N. negotiators by the Reds Monday in Panmunjom. The letter immediately was put aboard a plane for Japan. It will be forwarded to Mrs. Dean from Tokyo.

The letter was delivered soon after a Communist correspondent told of interviewing the former 24th Division commander at a prison camp near Pyongyang only three days ago.

Scattered Skirmishes

Seoul, Korea, Dec. 24 (AP)—Allied soldiers today prayed for peace but fought scattered skirmishes on the frosty Korean battle front.

There was plenty of Christmas spirit along the 145-mile front. United Nations troops had religious services, wrapped gifts for Korean orphans, gathered around trees decorated with home-made bangles and opened packages from home.

But, for many a soldier, the day before Christmas meant "business as usual" with the mercury around the freezing level. U. N. forces repulsed a series of small Communist probing attacks early today.

Two-Hour Fight

The heaviest action of the 24-hour period ending at midnight Sunday was a stiff two-hour fight between U. N. Allied tank-infantry raiding party and Chinese Reds southwest of Chongwon in west-central Korea.

The Allied armored column rummaged about 2,000 yards into Red territory, looking for targets. The Reds opened with a hail of small arms fire. When they added mortar and artillery fire, the raiding party withdrew.

In the air, P-86 Sabre jets swept "MIG Alley" throughout the day without spotting a Communist jet.

All told, Allied pilots flew 642 sorties, most of them attacks against rail lines and Red supply facilities.

One American P-84 Thunderjet was shot down by Communist anti-aircraft gunners, the Fifth Air Force said.

HOTEL STAFF URGED TO HAVE FAITH IN U.S.A.

Members of the staff of Hotel Gettysburg observed Christmas Friday afternoon by assembling in the dining room of the hotel around the traditional wassail bowl.

Henry M. Scharf, manager of the hotel, presented Robert R. Roberts, North Washington street, with a wassail bowl symbolic of his completion of 20 years service at the hotel and becoming, therefore, a member of Hotel Gettysburg's Twenty-Year Club. Other members of this group, who were introduced, are William Diebs, Sr. Mrs. Margaret Toomey and Herb H. Craig.

Members of the staff were presented with a turkey or a ham for their family dinner and also with a personal gift and the usual Christmas check.

In behalf of the staff, Mrs. Toomey presented Mr. Scharf with a leather brief case.

Compliment Staff

In a brief talk, Mr. Scharf expressed appreciation of the service of the staff and complimented each department on its part in maintaining the standards of the hotel. He said that in 1951 the hotel entertained more registered guests and served more patrons in its two restaurants.

Reds Refuse To Open POW Camps To R.C.

Munsan, Korea, Dec. 24 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's appeal to the Communist high command to open the gates of North Korean prison camps to representatives of the International Red Cross was rejected today, a Communist correspondent at Panmunjom said.

However, the Reds proposed, and the U.N. quickly agreed, to establish a postoffice in neutral Panmunjom to prisoners of both sides could send and receive mail. Details will be worked out later.

With only three days remaining until the provisional cease-fire line agreement expires, there appeared little chance that negotiators would be able to agree on a Korean armistice before the deadline.

Stop Red Attacks

Along the quiet, wintry battle front Allied troops beat back a series of minor Red probing attacks, but for the most part soldiers attended religious services and put the finishing touches on preparations for Christmas celebrations. There was little air action except for strikes against Communist railways and supply facilities.

Six hundred soldiers jammed a new chapel near the front Monday and heard Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, celebrate his first wartime mass in Korea.

A hand-written letter from Maj. Gen. William F. Dean to his wife in Berkeley, Calif., was turned over to J.N. negotiators by the Reds Monday in Panmunjom. The letter immediately was put aboard a plane for Japan. It will be forwarded to Mrs. Dean from Tokyo.

The letter was delivered soon after a Communist correspondent told of interviewing the former 24th Division commander at a prison camp near Pyongyang only three days ago.

Scattered Skirmishes

Seoul, Korea, Dec. 24 (AP)— Allied soldiers today prayed for peace but fought scattered skirmishes on the rocky Korean battle front.

There was plenty of Christmas spirit along the 145-mile front. United Nations troops had religious services, wrapped gifts for Korean orphans, gathered around trees decorated with home-made bangles and opened packages from home.

But, for many a soldier, the day before Christmas meant "business as usual." With the mercury around the freezing level, U. N. forces repulsed a series of small Communist probing attacks early today.

Two-Hour Fight

The heaviest action of the 24-hour period ending at midnight Sunday was a stiff two-hour fight between an Allied tank-infantry raiding party and Chinese Reds southwest of Chorwon in west-central Korea.

The Allied armored column rumbled about 2,000 yards into Red territory, looking for targets. The Reds opened with a hail of small arms fire. When they added mortar and artillery fire, the raiding party withdrew.

In the air, F-86 Sabre jets swept "MIG Alley" throughout the day without spotting a Communist jet.

All told, Allied pilots flew 642 sorties, most of them attacks against rail lines and Red supply facilities.

One American F-84 Thunderjet was shot down by Communist anti-aircraft gunners, the Fifth Air Force said.

HOTEL STAFF URGED TO HAVE FAITH IN U.S.A.

Members of the staff of Hotel Gettysburg observed Christmas Friday afternoon by assembling in the dining room for the hotel around the traditional wassail bowl.

Henry M. Scharf, manager of the hotel, presented Robert R. Roberts, North Washington street, with a wrist watch symbolic of his completion of 20 years service at the hotel and becoming, therefore, a member of Hotel Gettysburg's Twenty-Year club. Other members of this group, who were introduced, are William Dubbs, Sr., Mrs. Margaret Toomey and Hugh H. Craig.

Members of the staff were presented with a turkey or a ham for their family dinners and also with a personal gift and the usual Christmas cake.

In behalf of the staff, Mrs. Toomey presented Mr. Scharf with a leather brief case.

Compliments Staff

In a brief talk, Mr. Scharf expressed appreciation of the service of the staff and complimented each department on its part in maintaining the standards of the hotel. He said that in 1951 the hotel entertained more registered guests and served more patrons in its two restaurants.

OHIO BROTHERS CASH IN WITH PEACEFUL TOYS

Cincinnati, Pa.—A post-war problem of finding toys other than miniature weapons of war has been turned into a million-dollar business by two Cincinnati brothers.

The idea developed just before Christmas of 1945 when the mother of Charles W. and Frederick W. Doeplke complained she couldn't find any toys for her grandchildren except guns, airplanes, tanks and other miniature weapons.

The brothers rescued some old toys and put them in working order.

At that time they were looking for business for their small machine shop which had produced ammunition containers and tank tread pins during the war, so they went to work on their idea—toys which would encourage the constructive attitudes of children.

The Doeplkes turned to construction equipment—the kind contractors use in building roads, dams, airports and bridges. They enlisted the aid of manufacturers of such actual equipment and received permission to work from their blueprints.

Their first product was a model earth hauler and in 1946 they produced 32,000 of them. By 1947 they had to move from their small plant into a new building in suburban Rossmyre. Last year they produced 237,000 model toys. Their products now include a road grader, bucket loader, clam shell crane, dump truck and an aerial ladder fire truck. Every model is scaled and built exactly like the real thing.

Last year the Doeplkes used 2,500,000 pounds of steel. They bought more than a million miniature rubber tires from regular automobile tire concerns.

Their plant resembles an automotive factory in miniature. There is a quarter mile long assembly line and a service department where junior's toys are repaired.

The Doeplkes never produce more than five different models at one time. As interest wanes in one item, it is discarded in favor of a new piece of miniature construction equipment. The newest one is a helicopter—a combination earth scraper and hauler. It was brought into production only a few weeks ago.

Youngsters who have the toys also receive an "operator's license" or "construction permit" signed by the mayor of Modeltown, U.S.A.

Big Horse County Losing Old Dobbin

Washington, Pa.—Dobbin's popularity definitely appears to be waning—even in Minnesota's Otter Tail county.

Otter Tail's horse population was the heaviest of any county in the United States in the 1945 census of agriculture. The Census Bureau reported here that between 1945 and 1950, the county's horse inventory dropped from 19,299 to 10,709. Meanwhile, tractors increased from 3,939 to 6,184.

BOYS SHOOT SHARK

Coroner Brook, Nfld., Pa.—Harold Heath and Albert Layden went hunting for rabbits but came back with a 6-foot ground shark. The boys were pushing their boat off to return when they spotted the shark's fin, and Heath killed it with his rifle.

Singapore, P.—Eighteen new schools will be built in Singapore next year under a five-year education plan. These schools will provide education for 45,000 children reaching school age in 1952. More than 1,000 teachers will be recruited to staff both existing and new schools. In the next 10 years Singapore must recruit and train 5,290 teachers.

CIVILIZATION IS COMING TO ZANDE TRIBES

Nzara, Zandeland, P.—Civilization is coming to the Zande tribesmen in Central Africa.

The Zandes are primitive Africans. They wear little or no clothing. They eat cassava roots, snakes, monkeys and ants. Individual rights over ant hills—ant farms—are recognized.

Their moral code is very low. Trial marriage is an accepted practice for young girls and boys. A man may have 30 or more wives if he can afford them. The standard price for a wife until a short time ago was a bundle of spears. Now it's about $9.

Diseases Widespread Sexual and other diseases are widespread. The Zandes believe in witchcraft and oracles, despite the preachings of European missionaries.

They move around from place to place and never settle down for long. They live in thatched huts. They have no routine. A Zande eats when his wife gets hungry and decides to cook.

All this is being changed. It's a slow process. But the results are already beginning to show in Nzara, a new "industrial town" situated where six years ago there was only thick jungle.

Nzara today has a spinning and weaving factory that will turn out 200,000 yards of cotton cloth a year, made from cotton to be grown in Zandeland. There is a soap factory, a sugar factory, a saw mill, a gunning factory, a garage, machine shop, powerhouse and warehouses.

Cotton is Key
The cotton industry is the key project in what is called the "Zande scheme" for civilization of the tribesmen.

The Zandes live along the eastern side of the Nile-Congo divide, in the southeast corner of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. The Zandes came to this area as savage conquerors generations ago—migrating from their original home in French Equatorial Africa.

At one time they raised cattle. But the dread tse-tse fly killed off their cattle. They still like meat, hence their taste for such strange delicacies as white ants, snakes, frog or elephant steak.

The British-run administration of the Sudan is responsible for the attempt to jack up Zande living standards. The idea is to make such tribes as the Zandes—and there are many in Africa—self sufficient, and to develop primitive industries that will provide them with enough cash return so they can buy the few things they can't produce.

HEAVY IMPORT DUTIES
Singapore, P.—Some shoe manufacturers who export to Australia say they may soon have to close their factories because of heavy import duties levied on their product which runs higher than that on shipments from Britain.

Before an altar banked with white poinsettias and candles, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a ballerina-length gown of blush lace, fashioned with an accordion-pleated skirt and fitted bodice. RAMS DETHRONE CLEVELAND AS PRO CHAMPION

By PETE ARTHUR
Los Angeles, Dec. 24 (AP) — Pro football's three master passers met in Memorial Coliseum yesterday, but two of them ganged up on the third. As a result, the Los Angeles Rams are the new Champions of the National Football league.

It was just about a standoff between Otto Graham of Cleveland's Browns and Bob Waterfield of the Rams. Between them, they had fashioned a 17-17 tie in the waning minutes of the ball game.

Then young Norman Van Brocklin took over from Waterfield. And on one great toss, gathered in by Tommy Fears for a net gain of 73 yards, the Rams broke a long-standing jinx and whipped the Browns, 24-17.

It was the Rams' first victory over Cleveland in five tries, and their first championship since 1945 — although they have been in the playoff three years running. The Browns beat the Rams 30-28 last year.

52-Yard Field Goal
It was a game full of highlights and tense moments. The record crowd saw passing wizardry, fine running, a 52-yard field goal, a touchdown called back by a penalty, just about everything a football game can offer.

But the payoff pitch was the big play of the day. Cleveland had just tied it up, and Van Brocklin had stepped into give the tiring Waterfield a rest. With the ball on his own 27-yard mark, the lanky quarterback dropped back. He had perfect protection as Fears raced downfield, then verred toward the sidelines.

Two Brown backs were waiting. But Fears went in the air, and took the ball away from them. The goal was still nearly 40 yards away, but he made it without braking stride.

Of the crowd, which topped the 58,346 who watched the 1946 playoff at the polo grounds, 57,540 were paid. Gross receipts, including nationwide television (except for a local blackout) and radio, hit $325,970; the net was $223,644 and the players got 70 per cent, or $156,551. This meant $2,106 to each of the Rams, $1,482 to each of the Browns.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Dec. 24 (AP) — The board of education at Lyndhurst, N. J., was more than a trifle puzzled the other night when it received a communication from the boosters committee.

The boosters asked permission to erect a press box at the high school football field and specified that it would be installed "on the fifty yard line behind the goal posts."

If the B. of E. or the boosters solve the problem of how that is to be done, this dept. requests the exclusive privilege of selling the answer to college ticket managers.

When Edward D. Eddy, dignified assistant to the president of the U. of New Hampshire, received a "feeler" from the Philadelphia Eagles, publisher Bill Holmes figured out that it was intended for player Earl Eddy.

The Eagles didn't catch on so quickly. They followed up with a questionnaire which Dr. Eddy filled out this way: "Position—assistant to the president. Offense—Occasionally. Defense—Usually. Right—Yes."

LAST WORDS
Pat Kennedy, the guy with the red face, the loud whistle and the expressive gestures, has retired from active officiating to supervise the officials of the National Basketball association.

And maybe this helps to explain why Pat gave up public ham acting on the courts. . . . Seems that when Kennedy was dashing across the court to make a call in Rochester, he swallowed his whistle.

Choking for breath, his face turning to a deeper shade of purple than usual, he fell down on the court.

Les Harrison, the Rochester Royals' president-coach, saw what had happened and raced out on the floor pleading: "Pat, Pat, before you die tell them the basket doesn't count."

MONDAY MATINEE

Scotty Crisler, Pitt's son, won his letter as an end at Mercersburg, Pa., academy this year. Fritz, Michigan athletic director, was an end at Chicago 30 years ago. . . . Romance reported in Montreal is between "Boom Boom" Geoffrion, the Canadiens' rookie right winger, and Marlene Morenz, daughter of the famous Howie.

UCLANS COULD ALTER CURRENT CAGE RATINGS

By ED CORRIGAN
New York, Dec. 24 (AP) — The villain in this week's college basketball melodrama could be UCLA. The stage is all set.

Ever since the start of the season, the favorites have been falling on all sides. In fact, the No. 1 position in the Associated Press weekly poll has been a jinx. First it was Kentucky. The Wildcats promptly were beaten by Minnesota. Then it was St. John's. The Redmen were jumped by Kentucky.

Well this week UCLA meets both Kentucky, currently riding in second place behind St. John's, and Illinois, No. 3, and the favorite to capture the Big Ten title. The first game is Wednesday and the Illinois battle is slated for Friday.

If the Uclans win either or both of these contests the experts might as well throw their hands up in despair. Because the west coast five is not even rated in the first 20 for the week.

St. John's has two games on tap and the Redmen easily could come acropper against either Utah Thursday or Dayton Saturday. Both contests are slated for Madison Square Garden. Frank McGuire's charges have beaten Utah by a single point the past two years. They were beaten by Dayton, 69-62, in the National Invitation semi-finals last year, and Dayton hasn't lost any important players this time around.

Another of the teams that uses the Garden as its home base, New York university, goes after its twelfth victory in a row against Arizona, the perennial Border Conference champion, Thursday in the companion piece to the Utah-St. John's game.

Otherwise, action around the country will be pretty well limited to the nine major tournaments—the Cotton Bowl, Big Seven, All College, Dixie, Gator Bowl, Boston Arena, Sugar Bowl, Sun Carnival and Hofstra.

THIS WEEK'S CAGE SCHEDULE

Tallest Building In World Is Sold

New York, Dec. 22 (AP) — The Empire State, the world's tallest building formally was sold on Friday for $51,500,000. The 102-story structure was built 20 years ago at a cost of $52,000,000.

The purchasing syndicate is headed by Roger L. Stevens, Detroit real estate man. Associated with him are Alfred R. Glancy, Jr., also of Detroit, Ben Tobin of Hollywood Beach, Fla., and Col. Henry Crown of Chicago.

FAIN OFFICIAL AMERICAN LOOP BATTING CHAMP

Chicago, Dec. 24 (AP) — First baseman Ferris Fain of the Philadelphia Athletics, who has been offered as trade bait, is the official 1951 American league batting champion with .344.

The Athletics, who finished sixth last season, also had the league's home-run and runs-batted-in king, Gus Zernial.

Zernial was landed by Philadelphia after the campaign was two weeks-old in part of a three-club swap that moved Orestes Minofo to the Chicago White Sox.

Big Gus, who left much to be desired when he was with the Pale Hose, caught fire and banged out 33 homers and rove in 129 runs.

The Comiskeyes, however, were entirely satisfied with the deal by the sensational doings of rookie Minofo. The mercurial Negro from Cuba batted .326, according to official statistics, to finish second in hitting and help the fourth-spot White Sox take the team swat crown with 270.

Steals 31 Bases
Minofo also led the circuit in belting triples, with 14, and in stolen bases, with 31.

Fain, a left-handed swinger, bagged the batting title with the best percentage in his baseball career. He was inactive almost a month with an injury and went to bat officially only 425 times, barely making the 400-AB minimum needed for title consideration. Fain, a native of San Antonio, Tex., was the

RAMS DETHRONE CLEVELAND AS PRO CHAMPION

By PETE ARTHUR
Los Angeles, Dec. 24 (AP) — Pro football's three master passers met in Memorial Coliseum yesterday, but two of them ganged up on the third. As a result, the Los Angeles Rams are the new Champions of the National Football league.

It was just about a standoff between Otto Graham of Cleveland's Browns and Bob Waterfield of the Rams. Between them, they had fashioned a 17-17 tie in the waning minutes of the ball game.

Then young Norman Van Brocklin took over from Waterfield. And on one great toss, gathered in by Tommy Fears for a net gain of 73 yards, the Rams broke a long-standing jinx and whipped the Browns, 24-17.

It was the Rams' first victory over Cleveland in five tries, and their first championship since 1945 — although they have been in the playoff three years running. The Browns beat the Rams 30-28 last year.

52-Yard Field Goal
It was a game full of highlights and tense moments. The record crowd saw passing wizardry, fine running, a 52-yard field goal, a touchdown called back by a penalty, just about everything a football game can offer.

But the payoff pitch was the big play of the day. Cleveland had just tied it up, and Van Brocklin had stepped into give the tiring Waterfield a rest. With the ball on his own 27-yard mark, the lanky quarterback dropped back. He had perfect protection as Fears raced downfield, then verred toward the sidelines.

Two Brown backs were waiting. But Fears went in the air, and took the ball away from them. The goal was still nearly 40 yards away, but he made it without braking stride.

Of the crowd, which topped the 58,446 who watched the 1946 play-off at the polo grounds, 57,540 were paid. Gross receipts, including nationwide television (except for a local blackout) and radio, hit $325,970; the net was $223,644 and the players got 70 per cent, or $156,551.

This meant $2,108 to each of the Rams, $1,482 to each of the Browns.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Dec. 24 (AP) — The board of education at Lyndhurst, N. J., was more than a trifle puzzled the other night when it received a communication from the boosters committee.

The boosters asked permission to erect a press box at the high school football field and specified that it would be installed on the fifty yard line behind the goal posts.

If the B. of E. or the boosters solve the problem of how that is to be done, this dept. requests the exclusive privilege of selling the answer to college ticket managers.

When Edward D. Eddy, dignified assistant to the president of the U. of New Hampshire, received a "feeler" from the Philadelphia Eagles, publisher Bill Holmes figured out that it was intended for player Earl Eddy.

The Eagles didn't catch on so quickly. They followed up with a questionnaire which Dr. Eddy filled out this way: "Position—assistant to the president. Offense—Occasional. Defense—Usually. Right—Yes."

LAST WORDS

Pat Kennedy, the guy with the red face, the loud whistle and the expressive gestures, has retired from active officiating to supervise the officials of the National Basketball association. . . . And maybe this helps to explain why Pat gave up public ham acting on the courts. . . . Seems that when Kennedy was dashing across the court to make a call in Rochester, he swallowed his whistle.

Choking for breath, his face turning to a deeper shade of purple than usual, he fell down on the court. . . . Les Harrison, the Rochester Royals' president-coach, saw what had happened and raced out on the floor pleading, "Pat, Pat, before you die tell them the basket doesn't count."

MONDAY MATINEE

Scotty Crisler, Pitt's son, won his letter as an end at Mercersburg, Pa., academy this year. Fritz, Michigan athletic director, was an end at Chicago 30 years ago. . . . Romance reported in Montreal is between "Boom Boom" Geoffrion, the Canadiens' rookie right winger, and Marlene Morenz, daughter of the famous Howie.

UCLANS COULD ALTER CURRENT CAGE RATINGS

By ED CORRIGAN
New York, Dec. 24 (AP) — The villain in this week's college basketball melodrama could be UCLA. The stage is all set.

Ever since the start of the season, the favorites have been falling on all sides. In fact, the No. 1 position in the Associated Press weekly poll has been a jinx. First it was Kentucky. The Wildcats promptly were beaten by Minnesota. Then it was St. John's. The Redmen were jumped by Kentucky.

Well this week UCLA meets both Kentucky, currently riding in second place behind St. John's and Illinois, No. 3, and the favorite to capture the Big Ten title. The first game is Wednesday and the Illinois battle is slated for Friday.

If the Uclans win either or both of these contests the experts might as well throw their hands up in despair. Because the west coast five is not even rated in the first 20 for the week.

St. John's has two games on tap and the Redmen easily could come acropper against either Utah Thursday or Dayton Saturday. Both contests are slated for Madison Square Garden. Frank McGuire's charges have beaten Utah by a single point the past two years. They were beaten by Dayton, 60-62, in the National Invitation semi-finals last year, and Dayton hasn't lost any important players this time around.

Another of the teams that uses the Garden as its home base, New York university, goes after its twelfth victory in a row against Arizona, the perennial Border Conference champion, Thursday in the companion piece to the Utah-St. John's game.

Otherwise, action around the country will be pretty well limited to the nine major tournaments—the Cotton Bowl, Big Seven, All College, Dixie, Gator Bowl, Boston Arena, Sugar Bowl, Sun Carnival and Hofstra.

Smallpox is spreading rapidly throughout the State. We are glad to state that no cases have as yet been reported in our immediate neighborhood.

School Entertainments: One of the most delightful entertainments held in Assembly Hall, Meade school building, was given by the pupils of the High School and was witnessed by a good-sized crowd of spectators last Friday afternoon. The exercises over which Prof. Book presided, consisted of a debate and play entitled "The Rose Family." The question for debate was "Resolved that the Seller Endures Greater Hardships than the Soldier." The speakers on the affirmative side were Clare Sweeney, Charles Lewars and Raymond Topper; on the negative side Paul Basehor, George Crouse and Frank Schriver, all of whom acquitted themselves. The judges, consisting John W. Tipton, John Shellen and E. E. Slaybaugh, decided in the negative.

The play, a Christmas entertainment, was exceedingly well rendered. Miss Marjorie Lott acted the part of Mother Rose.

Roses—Janet Cunningham, Lula Little, Lula Metchey, Sarah Wilson, Edith Horner, Edna Pfeiffer, Virgie Musser, Edna Ziegler and Belle Bream.

Buds—Nellie Weaver, Martha Sachs, Nellie Blocher, Elsie Garlach, Bessie Mundorf and Helen Culp.

Landlady—Ruth Stine.

Maid—Carrie Hamilton, Jessie Smith.

City Gentleman—Paul Basehor.

On Friday evening, St. Francis Xavier's Institute gave the public a real treat in the guise of an entertainment. The attendance was large though not crowded.

Much of the credit for the creditable performance must be given to the Sisters of Charity, who were untiring in their efforts to make the entertainment a success.

The feature of the evening was the distribution of prizes to the children by Santa Claus.

Miss Mabel Myers played the entrance march. Piano solos were presented by Miss Estella Codori and Miss Zita Barker. Misses M. Myers and M. Kimpke played a piano duet. There was a piano trio by Misses A. Wisotzky, M. Stock and Z. Baker. John Wisotzky sang a solo.

The various classes demonstrated clubswinging, free hand exercise and singing of Christmas songs.

Wedding Bells: On Saturday morning at 8 o'clock, Miss Virginia Earmshaw, youngest daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Earmshaw, of this place, was united in marriage to Mr. Erle Edgar, of Wilkesbarre. The ceremony took place in the Episcopal Church of the Prince of Peace and was performed by the Rev. W. N. R. Ashmead, only immediate friends being present.

The Azores first became a way station for fliers in 1919 when a navy plane hopped there from Newfoundland on the first trans-Atlantic flight.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
ON BEING IMPORTANT

We are only as important as we are and do. As a matter of fact, it doesn't matter whether we are acclaimed as important or not. We are important if we perform honestly and conscientiously whether anyone who does anything that is well done is important.

In my city I note scores of men with big wagons cleaning up the garbage from the streets, and I say that each one of these men is important, and perhaps more important than many a one in high office who betrays those who elected him and who depended upon him to do an honest job. Important is always relative. The player of a piccolo, the smallest instrument in an orchestra, is important. It would be noted by the leader if its player struck the wrong note!

You can't be important by merely thinking you are. The great men of this world never give thought to their greatness. That's one thing that makes their greatness significant. Life magazine once stated that Dr. Albert Schweitzer was the greatest man in the world. Only a comparative number, however, know of the important work that this unselfish man is doing among the natives of Africa. But that doesn't matter. His greatness lies in the service he is rendering among those who have been so neglected. This man is happy in his work.

Genuinely important people never realize their importance because they are so busy doing important things. God had His own idea of importance. Among the most beautiful of all our flowers and plants he set out to bloom in the desert, and among our most beautiful and gorgeously groomed of all birds are those in the marshes and hidden away places of the jungle! Why was this?

In my library is a very beautiful story written many years ago by Dr. Henry Van Dyke, called "The Mansion." A wealthy man fell asleep and dreamed he was in heaven, and as he was shown around he had pointed out to him the homes of the humble of his community, the washer woman, the shoe maker and such. Theirs were among the most beautiful of all the mansions. "But where is mine?" this rich man asked. He was shown a simple shack that shocked him. He learned that in Heaven importance did not count — only simple service which those on earth had once rendered!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Will To Rise." Protected, 1951, by The George Matthew Adams Service

Just Folks

CHRISTMAS EVE
I can remember Christmas Eves when dad and mother said: "Much sooner Christmas Day will come if sooner you're in bed."

So up you go and get to sleep! The slightest noise don't make, For Santa Claus will never come as long as you're awake."

We tried so hard to get to sleep, but every sound we'd hear the ring of sleigh bells seemed to be, with Santa drawing near. Sometimes we'd tiptoe to the stairs to see what we could see

Then "Back to bed," they'd shout, "or there will be no Christmas tree!"

I'm sure 'twill be the same tonight with all the young and old: "No Santa Claus while you're awake!" the children will be told.

"But, when at last you're fast asleep and every sound is stilled, Then down the chimney he will come and leave your stockings filled."

CANTATA TO BE GIVEN TONIGHT

The Senior choir of Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed church will present a Christmas cantata this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The musical is entitled "The Call of the Star," music by Lawrence Keating and words by Elsie Duncan Yale. Immediately following the cantata the members of the choir will go carolling to the homes of the sick and shut-ins of the congregation.

"All Things New" was the subject of the sermon delivered by the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds at the Sunday morning worship service at Redeemer's church. The anthem, "O, Starry Night of Long Ago," by Lawrence Keating, was sung by the Senior choir, accompanied by Miss Shirley Gobrecht, church organist. The altar flowers were placed by Doretta and Barbara Swam, in memory of their father, Charles L. Swam. The potted poinsettias were the gift of the Hustlers' Sunday school class, taught by Theron W. Spangler. The bulletins were given by Mrs. Nora Creager in memory of her husband, Elder Frank S. Creager. The Christmas offering received will be used to purchase new gowns for the choir.

Announcing—
The Opening of the Western Extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike—December 26 at 7:00 A. M.

LEGEND
..... TEMPORARY ACCESS ROAD
○ INTERCHANGES
1. Gateway 5. Allegheny Valley
2. Beaver Valley 6. Pittsburgh
3. Perry Highway 7. Irwin
4. Butler Valley
□ SERVICE STATIONS & RESTAURANT AREAS

The Western Extension comprises that section of the turnpike west of the original terminus at Irwin and is 67 miles long. Ten miles of this extension between Irwin and the Pittsburgh Interchange (U.S. Route 22) was opened to traffic Aug. 7, 1951.

Above is a map showing in detail Pennsylvania and Ohio State Highways in the vicinity of the Gateway Interchange; also the temporary access roads for carrying traffic until the projected Ohio Turnpike is constructed.

THE opening to traffic of the Western Extension makes possible 327 miles of non-stop travel from the suburbs of Philadelphia in the East to the Ohio-Pennsylvania border in the West—reducing travel time between these points by as much as five or six hours.

Contrary to general reports, the Western Extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike System does not, so far as its patrons are concerned, dead-end in a borderland cornfield. Pending construction of the proposed Ohio Turnpike, the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission has built access roads connecting the Turnpike west of the Gateway toll booths with Pennsylvania State highways at points less than one mile from the Ohio border.

Engineers and contractors working against time and the elements have made it possible for the Commission to open this extension this year. The Beaver Valley Interchange (Route 18) will remain closed for an indefinite period contingent upon the completion of the new State Highway 18 in the area of the interchange.

Because there will be clean-up activity along the right-of-way during the next several months, the Commission has decided that throughout this winter period the regular turnpike speeds on the section between the Ohio line and the Pittsburgh Interchange will be reduced to a maximum of fifty (50) miles per hour for passenger vehicles (including buses), and forty-five (45) miles per hour for all other vehicles.

The Commission asks all its patrons to cooperate in the observance of these temporary speed regulations, which will be strictly enforced.

Between Irwin and the Ohio-Pennsylvania border are four modern service station and restaurant units, completion of which has been delayed because of material shortages.

The Gulf Oil Corporation's gas, oil and rest room facilities will be open at Pleasant Valley Station, located on the west-bound lanes seven miles east of the Pittsburgh Interchange (U.S. Route 22). However, it will be some time before restaurant service will be available.

Work is being expedited at all stations, and as rapidly as they are completed they will be placed in service.

Today's Talk
By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
ON BEING IMPORTANT
We are only as important as we are and do. As a matter of fact, it doesn't matter whether we are important or not. We are important if we perform honestly and conscientiously whether anyone who does anything that is well done is important.
In my city I note scores of men with big wagons cleaning up the garbage from the streets, and I say that each one of these men is important, and perhaps more important than many a one in high office who betrays those who elected him and who depended upon him to do an honest job. Important is always relative. The player of a piccolo, the smallest instrument in an orchestra, is important. It would be noted by the leader if its player struck the wrong note!
You can't be important by merely thinking you are. The great men of this world never give thought to their greatness. That's one thing that makes their greatness significant. Life magazine once stated that Dr. Albert Schweitzer was the greatest man in the world. Only a comparative number, however, know of the important work that this unselfish man is doing among the natives of Africa. But that doesn't matter. His greatness lies in the service he is rendering among those who have been so neglected. This man is happy in his work.
Genuinely important people never realize their importance because they are so busy doing important things. God had His own idea of importance. Among the most beautiful of all our flowers and plants he set out to bloom in the desert, and among our most beautiful and gorgeously gowned of all birds are those in the marshes and hidden away places of the jungle! Why was this?
In my library is a very beautiful story written many years ago by Dr. Henry Van Dyke, called "The Mansion." A wealthy man fell asleep and dreamed he was in heaven, and as he was shown around he had pointed out to him the homes of the humble of his community, the washer woman, the shoe maker and such. There were among the most beautiful of all the mansions. "But where is mine?" this rich man asked. He was shown a simple shack that shocked him. He learned that in Heaven importance did not count — only simple service which those on earth had once rendered!

CANTATA TO BE GIVEN TONIGHT
The Senior choir of Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed church will present a Christmas cantata this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The musical is entitled "The Call of the Star," music by Lawrence Keatinge and words by Elsie Duncan Yale. Immediately following the cantata the members of the choir will go carolling to the homes of the sick and shut-ins of the congregation.
"All Things New" was the subject of the sermon delivered by the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds at the Sunday morning worship service at Redeemer's church. The anthem, "O, Starry Night of Long Ago," by Lawrence Keatinge, was sung by the Senior choir, accompanied by Miss Shirley Gobrecht, church organist. The altar flowers were placed by Dorretta and Barbara Swann, in memory of their father, Charles L. Swann. The potted poinsettias were the gift of the Hustlers' Sunday school class, taught by Theron W. Spangler. The bulletins were given by Mrs. Nora Creager in memory of her husband, Elder Frank S. Creager. The Christmas offering received will be used to purchase new gowns for the choir.

Good skating and plenty of it, for six inches thick.
E. G. Witters, president of the shirt factory, presented each of his employees with a Christmas gift.
All the out-going trains on Friday carried a jolly crowd of college students. College closed on that day and the "boys" lost no time in mounting the first train for home.
Snow began falling last Thursday and continued at intervals throughout the day attaining a depth of about 1/2 inch, robbing Mother Earth in white giving it a beautiful and Christmas-like appearance. Monday another snow fell and we now have about three inches of the beautiful.
Cousins who have any matrimonial intentions will have to be married within the next few days as January 1st, 1952, the new law goes into effect in the state making the marriage of first cousins unlawful.
Smallpox is spreading rapidly throughout the State. We are glad to state that no cases have as yet been reported in our immediate neighborhood.

CHRISTMAS EVE
I can remember Christmas Eves when dad and mother said: "Much sooner Christmas Day will come if sooner you're in bed.
So up you go and get to sleep! The slightest noise don't make.
For Santa Claus will never come as long as you're awake."
We tried so hard to get to sleep, but every sound we'd hear 1/2 ring of sleigh bells seemed to be, with Santa drawing near. Sometimes we'd tiptoe to the stairs to see what we could see.
Then "Back to bed," they'd shout, "or there will be no Christmas tree!"
I'm sure 'twill be the same tonight with all the young and old:
"No Santa Claus while you're awake!" the children will be told.
"But, when at last you're fast asleep and every sound is stilled,
Then down the chimney he will come and leave your stockings filled."

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Card of Thanks 2

WALTER: Mrs. Harvey Walter and family wish to thank the hospital staff and all those who assisted her while at the hospital. Also sincere thanks to all friends and neighbors for visits, cards, flowers and deeds of kindness and sympathy.

In Memoriam 3

A Christmas tribute of love to my dear nephew, Richard R. Wenschhoff, who passed away December 10, 1944.
If I could have my little nephew here with me today, Or I could be there with him, And we could chat of this and that, And things we used to do, Wouldn't it be wonderful? Wouldn't the world seem gay? Dear God, it would be so wonderful to be together This Christmas day.
Loving Aunt Nan

POLICYHOLDERS MEETING
The annual meeting of the policyholders of the Muncie Mutual Fire Protection Society will be held at the office of the Company, on Lincoln Square, Gettysburg, Pa., Saturday afternoon, January 12th, 1952, between the hours of 2 and 6 o'clock, for the purpose of electing five directors for the ensuing year and for final approval of recent rates and amendments to the By-Laws, and such other business that may properly come before the meeting.

M. W. KNOTSE,
Secretary.

taurants than in any previous year.

"Increased patronage and your efficiency went a great way toward absorbing higher costs of all items of food and supplies with the result that we were compelled to make very few increases in our rates and menu prices. In short, we are endeavoring to solve our own problems without passing that responsibility over to our guests and our restaurant patrons," he said.

The hotel manager made a plea for faith in America and in the American system.

"Our country is the greatest on the face of the globe and our American system has done more in a shorter time for its people than any other system devised by man.

"Without attempting to minimize the effect of high taxes on our economy and the effect of faithlessness in public trust on our government or our economic system," he declared.

Urges Self Responsibility
Describing the hotel business as covering the complete realm of human activities, Mr. Scharf urged continued adherence to the philosophy of service to others.

"Just as Hotel Gettysburg has progressed by rendering its guests more and better service, so may we all better serve our country and ourselves by being better citizens and by resisting the temptation of permitting government to do such things for us that are, in reality, our own responsibilities," he concluded.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Cord of Thanks

WALTER: Mrs. Harvey Walter and family wish to thank the hospital staff and all those who assisted her while at the hospital. Also sincere thanks to all friends and neighbors for visits, cards, flowers and deeds of kindness and sympathy.

In Memoriam

A Christmas tribute of love to my dear nephew, Richard R. Wenschhoff, who passed away December 10, 1944. If I could have my little nephew here with me today, Or I could be there with him, And we could chat of this and that, And things we used to do, Wouldn't it be wonderful? Wouldn't the world seem gay? Dear God, it would be so wonderful to be together This Christmas day.

In short, we are endeavoring to solve our own problems without passing that responsibility over to our guests and our restaurant patrons," he said.

Describing the hotel business as covering the complete realm of human activities, Mr. Scharf urged continued adherence to the philosophy of service to others.

LUTHER I. SACHS

decorations noted for the number of lights involved. At Groff's, lighted Santa Claus faces peer from windows and the door, strings of greens and lights drop from the roof of the home. At Augustine's more than 200 lights outline the house and cover porches and trees.

Other Winners
An ingenious use of lights to provide a shadow effect at the Hay home interested the judges. Cut-out figures of choir boys singing a carol are placed on the railing of the porch and a spotlight in the front yard casts the enlarged shadows of the choir boys against a white wall where strips of aluminum paper give the effect of a choir before an organ.

A huge Nativity scene is shown by Dr. Knox on the lawn between his office and the Elks home. At the Beales home Santa Claus and sleigh are lighted, lights outline much of the house, there is a string of lights across a driveway in front of the sleigh. At the Shaffer home a complete Nativity scene was shown, extending around the front porch of the home and side porch. It included the Wise Men and their camels, the shepherds and their flocks, and the stable, with the Christ-child, Joseph, Mary and the animals in the stable. Keefer's porch showed Santa's workshop, a log cabin, a full size

Santa and numerous toys.
The judges felt that all homes entered, and some that were not should receive an honorable mention. Several that particularly attracted the judges were the porch nativity scene at the home of Mrs. Annie Hardman on South Washington street, and the Kissinger home near the National cemetery.
A $15 award was the third prize, fourth through seventh were $10 each and eighth and ninth, $5 each. The ninth place was added Saturday night by the Moose when the scorecards of the judges showed the ninth place entrant extremely close to the eighth.

Judges included E. H. Blettner, Hanover; Dean W. E. Tilberg, Gettysburg college, and Richard E. Dreas, manager of the local Metropolitan Edison company. George D. March, chairman of the decorations contest committee for the Moose, drove the judges on the tour.

The December meeting of the Littlestown Fish and Game Association, Inc., which was postponed from December 12 and 19 due to the weather conditions, to this Wednesday evening, will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the P.O.S. of A. hall, East King street. Nomination of officers will be held in charge of the committee composed of Millard Doyle, Warren C. Harner and Harvey J. Pettyjohn.

The December entertainment committee consists of Lawrence T. Crouse, Paul E. Renner and Lloyd R. Baker.

The Littlestown Boy Scout Troop No. 84 will hold its weekly meeting on Wednesday evening, 7:30 o'clock, in the basement of the State bank building.

Miss Mary Ritter, East King street, will be hostess to the members of Girl Scout Troop No. 30 for a Christmas party on Wednesday evening. The party was previously planned for last Wednesday, but was postponed due to the weather.

decorations noted for the number of lights involved. At Groat's, lighted Santa Claus faces peer from windows and the door, strings of greens and lights drop from the roof of the home. At Augustine's more than 200 lights outline the house and cover porches and steps.

Other Winners

An ingenious use of lights to provide a shadow effect at the Hay home interested the judges. Cut-out figures of choir boys singing a coro are placed on the railing of the porch and a spotlight in the front yard casts the enlarged shadows of the choir boys against a white wall where strips of aluminum paper give the effect of a choir before an organ.

A huge Nativity scene is shown by Dr. Knox on the lawn between his office and the Elks home. At the Beales home Santa Claus and sleigh are lighted, lights outline much of the house, there is a string of lights across a driveway in front of the sleigh. At the Shaffer home a complete Nativity scene was shown, extending around the front porch of the home and side porch. It included the Wise Men and their camels, the shepherds and their flocks, and the stable with the Christ-child, Joseph, Mary and the animals in the stable. Kiefer's porch showed Santa's work-shop, a log cabin, a full size

Santa and numerous toys.

The judges felt that all homes entered, and some that were not should receive an honorable mention. Several that particularly attracted the judges were the porch nativity scene at the home of Mrs. Annie Hardman on South Washington street, and the Kissinger home near the National cemetery.

A $15 award was the third prize, fourth through seventh were $10 each and eighth and ninth, $5 each. The ninth place was added Saturday night by the Moose when the scorecards of the judges showed the ninth place entrant extremely close to the eighth.

Judges included E. H. Blettner, Hanover, Dean W. E. Tilberg, Gettysburg college, and Richard E. Drees, manager of the local Metropolitan Edison company. George D. March, chairman of the decorations contest committee for the Moose, drove the judges on the tour.

355-DAY TERM OF LEGISLATURE ENTERS HISTORY

Harrisburg, Dec. 24 (P) — The 355-day session of the 1951 Legislature entered the history books Saturday as the longest in Pennsylvania history.

The formality of adjournment was reached at 2:30 a.m. It was greeted by the cheers of a Christmas-minded House and Senate which had fidgeted to end nearly a year of lawmaking turmoil.

The trek for the holidays at home started immediately. Many lawmakers departed before time. A comparative handful of senators and assemblymen remained for the uneventful end.

Re-Appoints Draemel
Gov. John S. Fine, immediately upon adjournment, reappointed M. F. Draemel as secretary of Forests and Waters after the Senate last night refused to confirm the retired navy admiral to a full four-year term.

Republicans joined with Democrats in voting down the confirmation. The vote was 26-14, nine short of the required two-thirds majority. Jam-packed calendars in both houses were cleared in rapid fire order Friday night. The last major issue to clear the Assembly was a congressional reapportionment plan.

It calls for elimination of three Republican districts to reduce Pennsylvania's delegation from 33 to 30 in conformance with population changes uncovered by the 1950 census. Affected are Reps. Edward L. Sittler, Jr., Uniontown; Joseph Carrigg, Susquehanna, and Harmer D. Denny, Jr., Pittsburgh.

Clear Dent
Both chambers then called for post-midnight sessions to act on a calendar shorn of all but a few secondary bills. The last measure acted on by the Assembly was one to give the state mines secretary discretionary power to ban the use of diesel-powered locomotives in coal mines in the interest of safety.

In another 11th hour development, a special Senate investigating committee cleared Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, of charges that he offered a bribe to John J. Haluska (D-Cambria).

A 1,700-word report by the committee described Haluska's charge as a "reckless allegation." Haluska testified at a drama-packed committee hearing last week that Dent acted as a go-between for Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, Republican state chairman and Senate president pro tempore.

No Perjury Charges
Haluska told the Senate after the report was read that the committee "came here to bury the charges — not to investigate them."

"My colleagues didn't have the courage to dismiss me while I was among them. They stabbed me in the back."

Despite the conflicting testimony at the hearing, the committee indicated it would not take up perjury charges against anyone involved in the probe.

The lawmakers spent much of the night adjusting differences on three different salary-raising bills.

Action On Salaries
One measure sent to the governor for signature would increase the pay of future lawmakers from $3,000 for a two-year session to $5,000. The measure barely passed the Senate by a 26-10 vote after clearing the House handsily.

Another bill cleared by the Legislature called for increasing salaries of judges by about $2,000 a year. It was revised to cut back from $16,500 to $14,000 the minimum salary for jurists from rural counties.

The House, however, killed a proposal to give state police a 15 per cent pay boost.

Meet Next In '53
Fine last night also signed into a bill to raise $3 million by increasing the inheritance tax on others than direct heirs from 10 per cent to 15 per cent. The two per cent levy on direct heirs is unaffected.

The Communist party was outlawed in Pennsylvania under another measure signed by the governor.

It imposes heavy penalty for memberships in the party which is specifically declared a subversive organization.

The Legislature now cannot reconvene unless called into special session by the governor. Its next regular meeting will be January 6, 1953.

Carols In Cloakrooms
In the cloakrooms, singing of Christmas carols fill the air. Political enemies during the long tax fight dropped party antagonisms to join in the celebration.

The record-breaking lawmaking marathon started last January 2. The 355-day session far exceeded the modern record of 196 days set in 1941.

The longest previous meeting on record was the founding session of 1776-77. It ran for 295 days.

A stalemate on Fine's proposal for a one-half of one per cent income tax started last April. It continued until agreement was reached two weeks ago on a $113 million patch-work tax package.

Harrisburg, Dec. 24 (P) — Public Assistant department expenditures for relief investigations or surveys have been limited by the General Assembly and placed under the governor's direction.

Legislation approved by the Assembly Friday night stipulates the agency may spend no more than one half of one per cent of total allocation of such projects.

A limit on administrative expenditures which was proposed by the Senate, however, was removed by a joint House-Senate committee. The proposal would have limited such expenditures to 7½ per cent of the total assistant grant of $87,000,000 for the remainder of the Biennium.

Harrisburg, Dec. 24 (P) — The Senate passed without a vote to spare a bill increasing salaries of future general assemblymen $2,000 a session.

The House bill boosting salaries of all legislators to $5,000 for a two-year session would not apply to present members of the General Assembly unless they win re-election. The 26 to 10 Senate vote last night hit on the nose the minimum 26 vote required for passage.

Xmas Will Soon Be Here

(By The Associated Press)

Carolers will sing and tinsel will glisten on Christmas on Tuesday as in years past, but in thousands of American homes the season's traditional joy will be lacking.

Cheery candles in the windows of many a dwelling will obscure the fact that the family inside is thinking of a son or husband risking death in distant Korea.

The uncertainty turned to thankful joy in some homes this week with word that a missing loved one was reported alive—in an enemy prison camp, but alive.

But in an even greater number, the name of a loved one overseas remained on the list of missing.

Thus the season emphasized, perhaps to a greater degree than usual, family ties and the homes.

President Truman intends to follow his custom of flying to his family home in Independence, Mo., on Monday to have Christmas dinner there with his wife and daughter, Margaret.

From Independence, the President will press a button Christmas Eve to light a tree on the lawn of the White House in Washington. He will broadcast a Christmas message at the same time.

Across the nation, travelers headed for home wherever it was.

In New York, the Pennsylvania Railroad said it was running 150 ex-southern points yesterday, compared with a normal 33.

Churches across the country will have their usual Christmas services.

Some troops were being rotated home from Korea. For those who remained, and for American servicemen elsewhere in the world, the government planned the traditional Christmas dinner.

Turkey was on the menu in Korea, the same as it was in President Truman's home.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet promises men of the 8th Army this repast:

Shrimp cocktail, tomato juice, celery, olives, roast turkey, sage dressing, mashed and sweet potatoes, peas, corn, cranberry sauce, rolls and butter, fruit cake, mince and pumpkin pie and mixed nuts.

And no restrictions on second helpings.

REDS OUTLAWED IN THIS STATE

Harrisburg, Dec. 24 (AP) — Pennsylvania became forbidden territory for the Communist party today.

Gov. John S. Fine signed a far-reaching new state law which outlaws the Communist party in the Keystone state, and forbids membership in the organization.

The new law states that anyone who participates in the "revolutionary" activities of the Communist party in Pennsylvania is liable to a maximum 20-year prison sentence or a maximum fine of $10,000.

Introduced in the General Assembly under bi-partisan sponsorship, the bill had vigorous support from Judge Michael A. Musmanno, state Supreme court justice-elect.

Arguing for its passage, the Democratic jurist from Pittsburgh had declared: "It is utterly fantastic that while Communists are killing our boys in Korea we have been permitting Communists in Pennsylvania to maintain headquarters and use our facilities to help in that murdering business."

Provisions of the measure: Make it unlawful for the Communist party to receive any of the privileges of an incorporated body in the state; prohibit membership in the party in Pennsylvania and prohibit anyone from taking part in the "revolutionary activities of the Communist party" or any other party committed to the overthrow of the United States government.

Washington, Dec. 24 (AP) — Snow and ice of this premature winter spurred the District of Columbia commissioners to take drastic ac-

CAR, BUS COLLIDE

No one was hurt when an automobile operated by Edward J. Krichen, Hanover R. 4, skidded on ice and hit a Hanover-McSherrytown bus driven by L. G. Yeiser, Hanover, on Main street, near Third street, McSherrytown, at 6:15 o'clock Thursday morning. McSherrytown Chief of Police Manard Masemer said damage to the car amounted to $150. The bus, he said, was damaged to the extent of $100.

Paris, Dec. 24 (AP) — The United Nations General Assembly Friday slightly reduced the United States share of U. N. costs but turned down an American appeal for an even larger cut.

The U. S. delegation had energetically campaigned in committee sessions to get its share cut to one-third of the U. N. total, but could attract the support of only tiny Nicaragua for this proposal. Instead, the Budget committee recommended and the Assembly approved today, a decrease from 38.92 per cent to 36.90 per cent.

Xmas Will Soon Be Here

(By The Associated Press)
Carolers will sing and tinsel will glisten on Christmas on Tuesday as in years past, but in thousands of American homes the season's traditional joy will be lacking.
Cheery candles in the windows of many a dwelling will obscure the fact that the family inside is thinking of a son or husband risking death in distant Korea.
The uncertainty turned to thankful joy in some homes this week with word that a missing loved one was reported alive—in an enemy prison camp, but alive.
But in an even greater number the name of a loved one overseas remained on the list of missing.
Thus the season emphasized, perhaps to a greater degree than usual family ties and the home.
President Truman intends to follow his custom of flying to his family home in Independence, Mo., on Monday to have Christmas dinner there with his wife and daughter Margaret.
From Independence, the President will press a button Christmas Eve to light a tree on the lawn of the White House in Washington. He will broadcast a Christmas message at the same time.
Across the nation, travelers headed for home wherever it was.
In New York, the Pennsylvania Railroad said it was running 150 ex-

REDS OUTLAWED IN THIS STATE

Harrisburg, Dec. 24 (AP)—Pennsylvania became forbidden territory for the Communist party today.
Gov. John S. Fine signed a far-reaching new state law which outlaws the Communist party in the Keystone State, and forbids membership in the organization.
The new law states that anyone who participates in the "revolutionary" activities of the Communist party in Pennsylvania is liable to a maximum 20-year prison sentence or a maximum fine of $10,000.
Introduced in the General Assembly under bi-partisan sponsorship, the bill had vigorous support from Judge Michael A. Musmanno, state Supreme court justice-elect.
Arguing for its passage, the Democratic jurist from Pittsburgh had declared "It is utterly fantastic that while Communists are killing our boys in Korea we have been permitting Communists in Pennsylvania to maintain headquarters and use our facilities to help in that murdering business."
Provisions of the measure make it unlawful for the Communist party to receive any of the privileges of an incorporated body in the state; prohibit membership in the party in Pennsylvania; and prohibit anyone from taking part in the "revolutionary activities of the Communist party" or any other party committed to the overthrow of the United States government.

CAR, BUS COLLIDE

No one was hurt when an automobile operated by Edward J. Kruchten, Hanover, R. 4, skidded on ice and hit a Hanover-McSherrytown bus, owned by L. G. Yeiser, Hanover, on Main street, near Third street, McSherrytown, at 6:15 o'clock Thursday morning, McSherrytown Chief of Police Manard Masemer said damage to the car amounted to $150. The bus, he said, was damaged to the extent of $100.
Paris, Dec. 24 (AP)—The United Nations General Assembly Friday slightly reduced the United States share of U. N. costs but turned down an American appeal for an even larger cut.
The U. S. delegation had energetically campaigned in committee sessions to get its share cut to one-third of the U. N. total, but could attract the support of only tiny Nicaragua for this proposal. Instead, the Budget committee recommended and the Assembly approved today, a decrease from 38.92 per cent to 36.90 per cent.

Challenges Truman To Campaign Fight

Washington, Dec. 24 (AP)—Republican Senator McCarthy, who is bidding for re-election next year, Friday challenged President Truman to campaign against him in Wisconsin.

Commenting on Mr. Truman's reported assertion that McCarthy must be defeated and that the Democrats have a good chance of unseating him, McCarthy told newsmen:

"All I can suggest is that if the President or some of his friends want to come into Wisconsin and campaign against me, there is very good mink hunting there. I would welcome them in the state."

McCarthy's mention of mink hunting was an allusion to mink coats spotlighted by congressional inquiries into tax scandals and operations of the Reconstruction Finance corporation. Testimony showed they were bought for officials' wives.

Harrisburg, Dec. 24 (AP)—The House has killed legislation requiring public posting of relief rolls in Pennsylvania.

"The bill is in committee and it is going to stay there," said Rep. Charles C. Smith (Phila.), Republican floor leader. The bill would have required posting in county court-houses once every three months the names of all persons receiving public assistance. The measure was sponsored by Sen. Fred P. Hare, Jr. (R-Somerset) who said it was aimed at reducing what he termed "relief chiseling."

What Is Christmas?

By HAL BOYLE

What Is Christmas?

It is the time when people's hearts ring like bells. And legend says that oxen kneel in their stalls at midnight in memory.

Christmas is the anniversary of one kind of faith and selflessness. It is the natal date of a lonely Jewish carpenter who in 33 short years of breath stamped an undying conscience on this world and promised all men life everlasting through belief.

He died a radical upon a cross for what He taught. Few listened to His message in His day. He died a minor gadfly to a Roman world.

One of many martyrs to many faiths, Jesus Christ has been raised by time to a gigantic stature, so that today more than 600,000,000 people, one-fourth of all mankind, celebrate His memory. More men follow Him than any man who ever lived. In the 1,951 years since His birth He has become the greatest religious figure in history.

What Is Christmas?

It is His spirit and His philosophy—that "it is more blessed to give than to receive."

Today the celebration of His birth, as is His death, is crossed with old pagan ceremonies. But His spirit and His example illumine them.

What Is Christmas?

It is the time of letting-go of hidebound prejudices and having the courage to be sentimental and good. It is the time when men take down a cold unfeeling star from the sky and make it a warm and stirring beacon on a tree.

Mainly the grownups say, "Christmas is for the kids." But they themselves enjoy it most, although often they are oddly ashamed to acknowledge it.

What Is Christmas?

It is a season when they can cast away their mutual doubts and really do something for one another.

The Jews, who regard Jesus as only a prophet, have their own festival this time of year. It is called Chanukah, the Festival of Lights. It lasts eight days. On each day they light another candle, give another gift.

The other day a Jewish friend of mine, whose children go to a public school and love the festival of Christmas, told me the plight of his young daughter.

She came to her father and said: "Daddy, I was chosen to be an angel in our Christmas play, but do I have the right to play it?" And her father, knowing her problem, said: "Honey, be their angel." I think that is Christmas—and America.

GOOD START

Pincher Creek, Alta. (AP) — If it keeps up, this southern Alberta district should have plenty of snow this winter. A total of 14 inches fell in three days recently.

Harrisburg, Dec. 24 (AP)—Gov. John S. Pine will put aside official duties for a quiet holiday season with his two sons. The commonwealth's chief executive will spend Christmas Day with Jackie, 12, and Donald, 10, at the governor's mansion at nearby Indianopolis Gap. Present plans call for his attendance at Christmas Eve services at the base chapel at the military reservation.

Milady Makes More Gift Suggestions

Does she entertain? Choose for the charming hostess a linen luncheon cloth in luscious fruit patterns or she may prefer the fiesta shades in the modern motif. . . . She would be delighted with a pair of pillowcases in pastel or white . . . nylons, subtly tinted to appeal to the velvet lady in your life . . . in the lingerie department, consider for her a cotton crepe or rayon nightgown in pink, pale blue or tea rose, rayon or broadcloth pajamas, a satin slip accented with lace decoilage or nylon ruffles . . . and for bed-time stories, please her with a rose-tinted cotton crepe bed-jacket.

Enhance her silhouette with a latex girdle in rose or white . . . let the smart sophomore return to college with sophisticated luggage tinted to match her latest ensemble. A week-end case, a Pullman or traveling bag will answer any traveler's needs . . . complete her lingerie collection with a supply of nylon or cotton bras . . . if she is a bride, fill her linen closet with an assortment of bath and guest towels, wash cloths and complexion towels. Bright as a bride's dream are the new shades featuring sun-flower, azalea, azure blue, mother-of-pearl, bud pink, bottle green, lime and spring green.

Romantic in mood are the ballerina gowns presented for milady's happy holiday whirl featured by a leading fashion shop here. . . . She will dance with stars in her eyes in a taffeta and nylon net creation . . . if a full-length gown is her favorite, it is there for her choosing. . . . It will be "Paris in the Rain" when she walks down the street enveloped in a raincoat styled in flannel with velvet touches here and there. Also in this smart collection will be found gabardines and corduroys. . . . Give her that "cover girl" look with a velour, felt or hatters' plush chapeau from this shop. . . . For the girl with glamour on her mind, give her angora gloves in emerald green, lipstick red, white, cloud-grey, or beige . . . choose a hostess gown in crepe, satin or jersey for a holiday setting . . . and, for a touch of gaiety, add the sparkle of a rhinestone necklace and bracelet for the after five glitter. . . . What Is Christmas?

By HAL BOTTLE

What Is Christmas?

It is the time when people's hearts ring like bells. And legend says that once, in their stalls at midnight in memory.

Christmas is the anniversary of one king of faith and selflessness. It is the natal date of a lonely Jewish carpenter who in 33 short years of breath stamped an undying conscience on this world and promised all men life everlasting through belief.

He died a radical upon a cross for what He taught. Few listened to His message in His day. He died a minor gadfly to a Roman world.

One of many martyrs to many faiths, Jesus Christ has been raised by time to a gigantic stature, so that today more than 600,000,000 people, one-fourth of all mankind, celebrate His memory. More men follow Him than any man who ever lived. In the 1,951 years since His birth He has become the greatest religious figure in history.

What Is Christmas?

It is His spirit and His philosophy—that "it is more blessed to give than to receive."

Today the celebration of His birth, as in His death, is crossed with old pagan ceremonials. But His spirit and His example illumine them.

What Is Christmas?

It is the time of letting-go of hidebound prejudices and having the courage to be sentimental and good. It is the time when men take down a cold unfeeling star from the sky and make it a warm and stirring beacon on a tree.

Mainly the grownups say, "Christmas is for the kids." But they themselves enjoy it most, although often they are oddly ashamed to acknowledge it.

What Is Christmas?

It is a season when they can cast away their mutual doubts and really do something for one another.

The Jews, who regard Jesus as only a prophet, have their own festival this time of year. It is called Chanukah, the Festival of Lights. It lasts eight days. On each day they light another candle, give another gift.

The other day a Jewish friend of mine, whose children go to a public school and love the festival of Christmas, told me the plight of his young daughter.

She came to her father and said: "Daddy, I was chosen to be an angel in our Christmas play, but do I have the right to play it?" And her father, knowing her problem, said: "Honey, be their angel." I think that is Christmas—and America.
